

SOULMATE

There was nothing on earth more meaningful to Azmeer than his beautiful wife, Khalisya, part of his soul since the beginning of everything.

Since her passing, Azmeer vowed not to find anyone to replace her as his wife and the mother of their daughter, Alyna. He changed from a happy and jovial person to an uptight and moody character, spending most of his time at the office till late and avoiding any kind of relationship.

Things take a turn when Azmeer starts to have feelings for Rokiah, a smart, tomboyish and highly spirited village girl who lands herself a position in Azmeer's company in Kuala Lumpur. Her little acts somehow resemble his late wife, from her gestures to her routines. He tries to deny his feelings but the harder he tries, the stronger he feels towards her. Despite his inner turmoil, Azmeer confesses to Rokiah who reciprocates his feelings for her. Their romance is short-lived when Rokiah discovers about Azmeer's vow to Khalisya.
